Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Myers, Glenn and Michael, attended the Expo 67 in Montreal recently.

James Perkins was a recent guest of Larry Smith at the Wambeck Inn at Jefferson, N. H.

Jeannie Robertson went to Portland this week to enter the Golden School of Beauty Culture.

The Friday Gift Shop of the Methodist Church closed last Friday with a very successful summer.

Mrs. Mary Paine has returned from the U. of M. where she has been taking a course for the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. Trafton Foster are spending some time in Bethel visiting relatives and friends.

Rev. George Stebbins and son, George Jr., were confined to their home the first of the week by illness.

Bethel town team players please return uniforms and any equipment to Don Tyler or Bill Rockle.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Patterson, Mary and Marlene, have returned to their home after visiting two weeks with his relatives in Tennessee.

A great deal of work is being done at the present time on the interior of the Methodist Church. The work that has been done so far looks very good.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Work on the Chandler Hill Road has started. The T. R. I. fund is to be spent there this year. The total amount available is $9,997.85.

The dredging of Sanding Brook at the Railroad Street end has been completed. A culvert was installed between the property of Roderick McMillin and Stanley E. Roberts on High Street. The cost of cleaning the brook will be borne partially by Mr. Fischer who is building the new store on Railroad Street.

Frank Birmingham, assessor for South Portland was in town the week end of Aug. 26-27 to complete the assessing here. As soon as the cards are returned we will be able to compute the tax rate and send the bills.

The decision of the moderator relative to the tie vote at the special town meeting on Aug. 24 was correct according to an opinion of the attorney for the Maine Municipal Association.

Elwyn N. Dickey

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY TO MEET MONDAY

The regular September meeting of the Bethel Branch of the Rumford Hospital Auxiliary will be held Monday, Sept. 11, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Brown.

BAND DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD AT CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL

On Thursday, Sept. 14, Carroll Paulin of Carroll's Music Center, Auburn, will give a demonstration of band instruments at Crescent Park School. Not only is this informative and great fun for the prospective band student but many times it helps students in the choice of instruments they wish to study.

September is the time for enrollment in the band program. Boys and girls beginning this year, and who progress normally in their study, will be very important members of the new Telstar High School band program in the fall of 1968.

Interested parents are cordially invited to attend. The demonstration will begin at 1:30 the last period of the day.

STATE OF MAINE VOTERS TO PARTICIPATE IN REFERENDUM TUESDAY

Maine voters will have an opportunity to go to the polls next Tuesday, Sept. 12, to cast ballots requiring decisions on eight referendum questions.

For those eligible to vote in Bethel the polls will be open at the Bethel Fire Station on the day of balloting from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

BRIEF EXPLANATION OF REFERENDUM QUESTIONS

The following are brief explanations of the eight bond issues that will be voted on by Maine voters on Sept. 12.

Question One: These bonds would provide $3 million to improve an east-west road across Maine, linking Quebec and New Brunswick. Proponents of the measure say that improvements to Route Six, which runs from Jackson on the west to Vanceboro on the east, would generate more than enough revenue to pay for itself over a 20 year bonding period.

Question Two: Institutional care for the seriously mentally retarded is the object of Question Two on the ballot. Bonds of $500,000 would be matched on a 50 per cent basis with federal money to construct a building with 150 to 200 beds costing from $750,000 to $800,000 on the grounds of the Bangor State Hospital.

Question Three: A new bridge across the Androscoggin River between Lewiston and Auburn will prevent traffic tie-ups and increase traffic safety. Cost is $4.5 million.

Question Four: Bonds of $9,750,000 for dormitories and dining facilities at the state college and vocational technical institutes would be paid off by student room and board fees.

Question Five: Bonds of $2,000,000 for airport improvement would generate federal and local matching money for a total of approximately $6.1 million. Scott K. Higgins, director, Maine Aeronautics Commission, told the hearing that it is vital to the economy of the state that all transportation facilities in Maine be improved and maintained to accommodate vehicles of the future now operating on both the scheduled air carrier and general aviation.

The bonds will provide the statements to airports in Auburn, Augusta, Bangor, Greenville, Houlton, Madison, Millville, Millinocket, Norridgewock, Orono, Presque Isle, Rangley, Rockland, Rumford, Waterville and Wiscasset for a total of $2,000,000.

500 state funds items eligible for federal aid should produce $2,000,000 federal funds. This is addition to local funds required to complete state funds would amount to approximately $4,000,000 for airport construction in Maine.

Question Six: Bonds for $6 million for public school construction will be used to build new schools and to renovate old ones. The bonds will be used to build new schools and to renovate old ones.

Question Seven: Bonds for $10 million for public school construction will be used to build new schools and to renovate old ones. The bonds will be used to build new schools and to renovate old ones.

Question Eight: Bonds for $10 million for public school construction will be used to build new schools and to renovate old ones. The bonds will be used to build new schools and to renovate old ones.

S. H. C. SAYS $45 MILLION IN ROAD CONSTRUCTION UNDER CONTRACT IN STATE

The State Highway Commission reports that during the month of August there were three highway projects and three bridge projects awarded to contract totaling an estimated $821,460.

Highway work will reconstruct about a mile of Coldbrook Road from the interchange at I-95 extending northwesterly toward U. S. Route 2. A section of Route 4 in Jay will be improved in the vicinity of the approach to the new Androscoggin River bridge.

The new section will be 50 feet wide between curbs and provide additional traffic lanes for the a few of vehicles turning on and off the highway. The project in Kennebunk is for modernization of a section of Route 9 beginning at Branch Brook Bridge near the Wells town line, extending easterly for just over one-half mile.

Outrigger bridges in Damascus, Colton-Nobleboro, Greenwood and Sebier will be replaced with modern structures. Salt Hay Bridge in Damascus and Nobleboro will be two structural steel plate bridges, each 117 feet in diameter.

Loversen Bridge over Dugout Brook on the River Road in Sebier will be a structural plate arch with a span of 15 feet. In Greenwood the old wooden structure over Twitchell Brook on the Greenwood Road will be replaced with a 2-span box-culvert type reinforced concrete bridge, 60 feet overall length.

During the month of August ten projects were completed at a total estimated cost of $3,526,350. Two interstate projects were officially completed which have been available to the traveling public prior to this. This work included the new one-story belt road on Interstate 95, just north of Augusta, and the grading of the freeway and twin overpasses in the vicinity of the U. S. Route 2 interchange in Saco.

Highway construction completed during the month included the modernization of the approach of Routes 17 and 66 to Rock Island in Skowhegan, a 1.3 mile section of Route 104 south of the built-up area of town, was reconstructed including a new concrete steel and concrete spans over the West Branch of the West Branch River, slightly more than one-half mile of Route 123 in Harpswell was rebuilt in the vicinity of Harpswell Center south of the town hall in Calais, a 1.7 mile section of Route 101 was rebuilt from Parker Center extending north into the village, including a concrete turn-out at Parker Pond. Route 11 was reconstructed in Mill from Parker Center south to the town line. South Portland new traffic signal controls and vehicle detectors were installed on Washington Drive at Route 22, at the intersection with Market Street.

On September 1, 1967, the State Highway Department reported 10 Federal Aid and 1 State Aid projects were in progress of construction. The total amount of money being spent on highway construction is $4,000,000.

MRS. WIESE NAMED SCHOOL DIRECTOR

Announcement has been made of the appointment of Mrs. Joan Wiese to the board of directors of School Administrative District No. 44 by the Bethel board of selectmen. Mrs. Wiese succeeds Mrs. Phyllis Duch who resigned after serving as a director of the district since its formation in August of 1965. It is understood that interim appointments will be made until the next annual town meeting.

BERLIN, N. H., MAN DROWNING VICTIM AT TWITCHELL POND, FRIDAY

A 22-year-old Berlin, N. H., man drowned Friday afternoon in Twitchell Pond in Greenwood while fishing alone from a tree for bass.

The body of Frank F. McLean was recovered several hours later in 25 feet of water about 100 feet from shore. Medical Examiner Walter Dixon of Newry called death was due to asphyxiation from drowning.

Bethel County deputy sheriff State Police and game wardens were summoned when Mr. McLean was seen falling from the tree. They said that when they reached the scene the body was still hanging and the cause was not obvious about the fatal accident.

The victim had been staying at the pond with his son, Lucian McLean, also of Bethel.

S. A. D. DIRECTORS REQUEST "COMMITTEE OF 100" TO MEET TONIGHT

A special meeting of the board of directors of School Administrative District No. 44 was held at Woodstock High School, Dryden Pond, last Thursday evening, Aug. 31. The board discussed the over-all financial situation of the new Telstar Regional High School which is presently under construction.

The directors are requesting that the members of the "Committee of 100" formed during the early phase of this project, be asked to attend a special meeting at the Crescent Park School in Bethel this Thursday evening, Sept. 7, at 7:30 p. m. This meeting is most urgent because it pertains to the financial situation with which the directors, committee, and administration are being confronted. It is hoped that this committee can be present at this meeting.

The board of directors authorized the superintendent of schools to invite bids for equipment in those areas where there will be delays in the future delivery of this equipment.

The next regular meeting of the board of directors will be held Monday, Sept. 11, 7:30 a. m. at the Little Mill School.

CONSUMER PRICE INDEX UP .04 PER CENT IN JULY

SAYS LABOR DEPARTMENT

The Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers rose .04 per cent in July 1967, to 116.5, from 116.4 in June, the Labor Department reported.

A major cause of the .04 per cent rise was a sharp rise in food prices. Change for food and food services rose .03 per cent.

The Wholesale Price Index for all commodities rose .02 per cent in July, to 147.59, from 147.57 in June, but was only fractionally higher than a year ago. Wholesale prices of farm products and processed foods increased in July, while industrial commodities averaged unchanged, maintaining the stability which they have shown since early this year.

Preliminary data for August show a decline of .04 per cent in the Wholesale Price Index because of a sharp drop in prices of farm products and food. These also led to an average price of industrial commodities, marking the end of their recent volatility.

Despite sharply higher prices for many fresh fruits and vegetables, the advance of .02 per cent in grocery store prices was less than usual for July. After seasonal adjustments, retail prices of many items showed a decline. Retail prices of food and food services rose .02 per cent in July, to 147.59, from 147.57 in June, but was only fractionally higher than a year ago.

MILTON CONCORD FOND ROAD

Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corres.

The day after Labor Day:

First I would thank the town of Newry and Milton for the $27.40 I got in the two envelopes, change and bills, and for their kindnesses of cards and flowers for my most recent bereavement of the demise of my beloved husband, Frank Brown.

Also for cards, flowers, and letters, while I was at St. Mary's with a cracked hip. I am walking real good with the aid of one crutch. I am making my home with my very lovely son-in-law and daughter, the Francis Roberts. Thanks also to everybody who have offered any assistance I need. They all got hay for my cow, horse, pigs. Especially thanks to Harry and Edith Dudley, who literally waited on me.

Fort Kent and back home on Route 11 this past week.

There will be no school on Friday, the 8th, in the afternoon because of a teachers meeting in Bethel. There will be school in the forenoon, however. Schools begin on Wednesday, September 6, for all pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodridge and friends from Rangeley called on Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews, Tuesday.

AN OPTIMIST'S PRAYER

If I have made some face to smile
Once darkened by a frown,
If I have helped to lift the load
From one with grief bowed down,
If I have brought a gleam of faith
To one whose hope was gone,
If I have changed the wayward path
Of steps to right from wrong,
I'll thank the Lord and be content
At nighttime's close of day,
I'll ask again for strength to help
Another on his way. —Ben F. Spies

MAINE TALENT UTILIZATION

AGENCY REACHES 80,000

IN FIRST FULL YEAR

The State of Maine Talent Utilization Agency, with headquarters at the University of Maine, probably reached about 80,000 students in its first full year of operation, according to agency director Joseph (Chobin) of Bangor.

The agency was formed with federal support to identify and encourage young people in the state who have the desired level of native intelligence to go on to post-high school education.

In its first year the agency's talent scouts personally contacted 20,400 students and 630 students were admitted to or entered vocational-technical training programs and 23 students returned to high school after entering with the agency's credits.

The program will be continued for another year in Maine with the aid of a $60,000 allocation from the U. S. Office of Education or $30,000 allocated by the University of Maine.

Three University of Maine faculty members and graduate assistants will take part in a conference on Maine's investment in the first year of the agency's operation.

The first $400,000 school award to promote undergraduate interest in the pulp and paper industry and to encourage college students to enter technical fields will be awarded at the University of Maine by the Maine-New Hampshire Section of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry. The scholarship will be awarded to a freshman enrolled in a science or engineering course at the university and the student will be chosen by the university's Office of Student Aid.

Associate Professor Richard J. Rowe, 37, has been appointed acting head of the department of agricultural engineering at the University of Maine for the period from Oct. 1, 1967, to May 31, 1968, while department head Prof. Norman Smith is on a sabbatical leave of absence to study for his doctorate at the University of Newcastle in England.

REMEMBER TO ATTEND

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Kenneth A. Remsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Remsen of Bryant Pond, is among 369 freshmen who will arrive on the Middlebury College campus, Middlebury, Vt., Thursday, Sept. 14, for four days of orientation before classes begin on Monday.

The freshmen will be addressed by President James I. Armstrong Sunday morning, at the traditional convocation in Mead Memorial Chapel.

Other Freshman Week events are welcomed by Blue Key and Mortar Board, the men's and women's national honor societies; language placement examinations; orientation sessions; a faculty panel discussion, meetings with faculty advisors and deans and, for men, with the staff of the U. S. Army Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Social events include a reception to be given by Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong at their home, a Mountain Club outing, barbecue and dance at the college's Bread Loaf Mountain campus, and an entertainment and open house in Wright Theatre at which The Middlebury College Players, a dramatic organization, will be hosts.

Remsen is a graduate of Gould Academy where he was a four-year letterman in chess, was a golf letterman and football manager and won a Maine Teachers Association award for academic achievement.

Classes being held through Sunday, Sept. 10, at the Duke University Marine Laboratory at Beaufort, N. C.

Dr. David Dean, director of the Ira C. Darling Center for Research, Training and Service at Woods Hole, is one of the lecturers for the conference. Also attending are James A. Blake, a doctor of student in the department of zoology, and Michael A. Moser, research associate on an Office of Water Resources Research grant at the Darling Center.

vegetables had been running generally below a year ago at retail. By July, however, the delay in maturity of crops, caused by adverse spring weather, and reduced summer acreage were limiting supplies. Shipments of tomatoes and lettuce, in particular, were off substantially. Later in the month, wholesale prices had begun to decline, except for tomatoes and a few other vegetables that continued in short supply.

Retail food prices averaged 1.5 per cent above a year ago, in July, with grocery-store prices up 0.5 per cent and restaurant meals up 5.0 per cent.

While July clearance sales brought price reductions on summer apparel items, seasonally adjusted clothing prices as a whole continued upward at both retail and wholesale. Prices of household textiles also were reduced in summer sales, but further price increases took place for furniture and other house furnishings.

Lower gasoline prices were posted in several cities, despite a continued advance in wholesale prices of refined petroleum products and a near seasonal peak in retail demand for gasoline.

Charges for nearly all kinds of service were raised further in July, at about the same average rate (nearly 5 per cent on an annual basis) that has prevailed for many months. The increases were especially large for household services and medical care.

July interest rates of conventional mortgages reversed their recent downward trend with a significant advance. Property taxes were raised and water and sewer rates went up in several cities.

Home repairs cost more, rent increases were widespread, and hotel and motel rates were raised.

Charges for consumer services as a whole, except rents, averaged more than 4 1/2 per cent above July a year ago, with rents up nearly 2 per cent. The increase in rents has accelerated in recent months, reflecting the relatively low vacancy rate for rental housing and higher operating and maintenance costs for apartments.

MAINE GOOD ROADS ASSN.
OPPOSE TWO BOND ISSUES
IN TUESDAY REFERENDUM

The Maine Good Roads Association Wednesday announced its opposition to two proposed bond issues in the Tuesday, September 12 referendum—Question No. 1, calling for $3 million for reconstruction on Route 6, and Question No. 3, which seeks $4.5 million for a third free bridge between Auburn and Lewiston.

In a prepared statement, Joseph S. Jones of South Portland, chairman of the association's legislative committee, termed the two proposals "special purpose" bills. He asserted they "are being put before the voters along with a group of educational bond issues in the apparent hope that these issues will carry the vote for all of the bonds on this ballot."

Jones said the Maine Good Roads Association's board of governors voted unanimously to oppose the highway and bridge bond issues on the basis of "fiscal integrity," noting that the two and the $123 million highway bond issue to be voted upon in November of 1968 total $20,000,000 beyond the anticipated income for the period they cover.

In addition, he said, with further reference to Question No. 1 - "An act to authorize the reconstruction and elimination of hazardous locations on portions of State Route 6"—"we oppose the precedent of determining our highway reconstruction program on a purely political basis. Political maneuvering such as this bill indicates will open the door to more of the same by other groups on other routes throughout our state and bring chaos to highway planning, and to one of the principal functions of the State Highway Commission."

"We have one of the finest highway departments in the nation. Its trained personnel using proven methods that rate our highway needs, determine by sufficiency ratings and other data where our highway tax dollar is most required."

"It is also the opinion of many, that Route 6 will primarily be a corridor road only for Canadians to cross our state with few benefits to be derived from this. The need of this highway from our state's viewpoint has not been established."

Jones' statement said that the $12,000,000 proposal, the largest of the three highway bond issues approved by the 1963 Legislature "is being held at this time and is to be placed before the voters in November of 1968. There is the danger that the larger political issues at stake at that time will diminish interest in this and the General Fund bond issue also being withheld for placement on that ballot."

"It appears to many of us that our elected leaders are not keeping the general public completely informed when they maneuver in this fashion."

The Maine Good Roads Association has many times Jones pointed out, advocated bonding to make up deficits in highway income, but only when it appeared reputable to do so. To our opinion highway bonds are now being called for when our ability to repay with present highway revenues is questionable. We have strongly urged both the 1962 and 1964 Sessions of the Legislature to increase highway income. Although the majority of legislative leaders have agreed verbally that they would do best they have felt that politically this was not the thing to do.

The reluctance to use good business judgment and the feeling of debtors as apparent by past political maneuvering is proving to be very costly to us as taxpayers.

Jones stated that the amount budgeted for the Highway Department 1963-1964 was $10,000,000. He said that the state was to pay its interest on an existing bond issue $3,000,000. An additional $2,000,000 in interest was to be paid already being paid during the period 1963-1964.

As to the new bond issue, Jones stated that the present plan of increasing the highway program name $20,000,000 beyond the anticipated income for the period without additional revenue burdens on taxpayers is financing. We therefore do not support the proposed Question No. 1 and 3 on the September 12 ballot. Jones concluded.

UPTON

Mrs. C. A. Jenkins, Corres. — While visiting the Red Spot Fishing Club the week end of August 24th-28th nine members of the Greenwich, Conn. Audubon Society under the leadership of Wm. Bolton Cook, a past president, counted 34 species of birds in this area. Among those listed were the rare Black-backed three toed woodpecker, long eared owl, evening grosbeak, woodcock and white-rumped sandpiper. It was noted that some species noted by William Brewster fifty plus years ago, are now very rare or entirely missing, but others unknown to that ornithologist are now present in this area.

Bertha Lombard was in town over night Monday.

E. Oscar Jenkins of No. Anson was overnight guest Monday this week of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jenkins.
